

A Look At American Digital Exports

IA's newest report examines the economic impact of digital trade barriers on America's economy. The report found that trade barriers cost America's economy more than a million jobs and hundreds of millions of dollars every year.

AMERICA LOSES OUT ON JOBS AND GROWTH DUE TO TRADE BARRIERS

60% of the jobs created by digital exports are in other industries like manufacturing, agriculture, and entertainment

The U.S. exports significantly less to countries with digital trade barriers

There's a strong relationship between digital trade and the economic welfare of a country